

Nobody on this list is to be accused, searched, or questioned. They had nothing to do with anything.

[REDACTED] (Mother): I wish I was everything you wanted. You're such a strong, independent woman who knows exactly what she wants and where to get it.

[REDACTED] (Father): I wish I could have helped you around the house more. I looked up to you because you had a solution for everything. I asked too many questions when we worked together and I figured you became tired of answering them. I never wanted to stop learning. Sorry for breaking promises.

[REDACTED] (Grandmother): You were nothing but an angel.

[REDACTED] (Grandfather): We fought a lot. Your open mind is what keeps people debating. Never stop thinking and questioning.

[REDACTED] (Cousin): We took different roads when we grew up. I wish we talked more. You're an amazing person - sorry if I never told you.

[REDACTED] (Cousin): I wish I was there to help you more. Thanks for being so supportive. I remember punching you in the eye during Russian class several years ago and I'm sorry. I still think about it.

[REDACTED] (Aunt): Such a hard working woman. I loved your energy during family dinners and parties. I wish we talked more.

[REDACTED], [REDACTED], and [REDACTED]. Nothing but warm and supportive. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] - thank you for always being there for me. [REDACTED] - whether it's in Washington or Washington D.C., you always came through and helped me. [REDACTED] - thanks for being so cool with me and keeping my mother laughing.

[REDACTED]: We never got into deep conversations but it meant so much when you offered to teach me how to drive manual on your BMW. You're an amazing person.

[REDACTED]: I hope to see you up there one day. You never quit anything. I love you - thanks for growing up with me.

[REDACTED]: My brother from another brother. All I can remember are the laughs and jokes we made. Hope the world will be in your hands one day. You're extremely blessed for having amazing parents.
